

Annotation Manual

Please annotate the Tweets you are shown with 1:

- if the Tweet contains a location for f-score annotations
- If the tweet refers to a user's current location for temporal references.

Annotate with 0 if otherwise.

If you are not 100% sure choose the class you are more certain about.

Annotation Task (Group 1: F-Score)

1. Run every cell in the notebook, remembering to rename the annotator's name to your name_task, for example Helen_Fscore.
2. Read the presented Tweet carefully.
3. Decide whether a Tweet gets a 1 or 0.
5. Assign 1 to Tweets with a location mentioned.
6. Press "enter" to see the next Tweet.

Decision Guide:

- Pay special attention when annotating, remember that spaCy has 4 location entity classes FAC, GPE, ORG and LOC. These location entities cover mentions of any geographical object such as countries, cities, schools, organisations, buildings, bridges, water bodies, mountains, monuments, etc.

Note: Once you press enter, it is not possible to go back and revise your decision.

Example annotated tweets for F-Score:

Tweets are labelled with a 1 if they contain a location and 0 when no location is present.

Annotation Task (Group 2: Temporal Reference (TR))

1. Run every cell in the notebook, remembering to rename the annotator's name to your name_task, for example Helen_TR.
2. Read the presented Tweet carefully.
3. Decide whether a Tweet gets a 1 or 0.
5. Assign 1 to Tweets with a location mentioned.
6. Press "enter" to see the next Tweet.

Decision Guide:

- Tweets are to be annotated with 1 if they contain a present temporal reference and 0 if the location mentioned is a reference location where the user is not, for instance past or future location reference.
- In cases where the temporal reference is not clearly indicated, give a present location annotation.

Note: Once you press enter, it is not possible to go back and revise your decision.

Group 2: Temporal reference

Tweets are labelled with a 1 if they contain present temporal reference and 0 otherwise.
